Canton, O., Sept. 19 .- Scarcely had the shouts of Friday's tremendous crowd died away than they were taken up by another multitude this morning. Thousands of men, young and old, came from Chicago and other points in Tilinois, Cincinnati and Detroit, Butler, Mercer and Allegheny Counties, Pa.; Pitsburg, Milwaukee, Wis.; Carnegle, Pa., and numerous other places. The scenes of Friday were duplicated in to-day's carnival, and if Canton has not had a surfelt of "tremendous cheers," "tumultous applause" and the like, it is not because the visitors did not endeavor to

All day at short intervals delegation after delegation arrived, some coming as late as 4 o'clock, and insisted upon a speech from McKiuley. To-day he broke the record for speeches. Nine addresses he made, and then demands for more were made, but Major McKinley retired, and the crowd was satisfled with shaking hands with the man they had come hundreds of miles to see, Perhaps the finest lot of men in line were the commercial telegraphers of Chicago They attracted attention wherever they a peared. All the visitors were uniform more or less handsome.

A notable delegation was the Hunge Americans, of Cleveland, who cam strong to say to McKinley that ! their choice. ALTGELD REPLIES TO GOLD ORATORS.

Assails the Arguments Made by Cockran and Schurz.

Declares Their Treatment of the Currency Question Almost Flippant.

> t Is Utterly Impossible, Says the Governor, That There Could Ever Be a Fifty Cent Dollar Here

> MINTS SHOULD OPEN BEFORE MILLS

What the Country Primarily Needs, the Speaker Says, Is an Increased Volume of Money, Which Would Come with Free Silver.

Chicago, Sept. 19.-Governor John P. Altgeld made an address to a large crowd at he Central Music Hall this evening, in which he replied in detail to the statements made by W. oBurke Cockran and Cari Schurz in recent speeches. The Governor was frequently applauded.

He said in part: It said in part:

I hold in my hand a printed copy of the speech of Mr. Carl Schutz, delivered in this city two weeks ago, and a like copy of Mr. Cockran, delivered one week ago. Both have have been advertised as the ablest arguments in favor of the gold standard that have yet been made. The gold standard advocates speak of them as containing Moses and the prophets, the law and the gospel of the money question.

From the manner in which these people speak of them we are warranted in concluding that every argument and every fact that can be marshaled upon that side of the question is contained in these speeches.

In these long speeches there is not a line, not a senience, not a syllable that offers any hope to the American people. That we are in distress is not denied in either speech, but there is no suggestion of a remedy.

that we will be better off and suffer less if we keep quiet, and that the remedy pro-posed by the Chicago platform would only make matters worse instead of better, or, as Mr. Schurz puts It, the application of this remedy would be jumping out of the feying this, then the only question which is left for the consideration of those of our people who are dying in the frying pan is whether they would be any worse off in the fire.

The straight-out adherents of McKinley tory conditions in our land, and propose to remedy them by an increase of the tariq, They feel that some hope must be offered to the American people, and, having nothing else to present, they ask us to again try the idea of increasing the tariff fax.

Not Enough Money Now. Mr. Schurz is based upon the theory of overproduction. He insists that there is a fall in the price of aliver and that this is due to overproduction. That there was so much more silver produced than formerly that it
b. 4 to fall in urice.

You will readily see that if there was the same increase in the production of both metals then there was no reason why the relations which they bore to each other, or the market ratio which they hore to each other, or the market ratio which they hore to each other, or the market ratio which they hore to each other, or the market ratio which they hore to each other, should change.

Mr. Schurz knew this. Why didn't he state it that way? Because he knew the facts were against him. He wanted to make an impression which he could not make without a suppression of part of the brase. Fortunately this is not a marter that we need to speculate about. We have history experieuce and accurate data mon this subject.

No matter what may be the cause of falling prices, their effect upon the community is more than a mere scramble between hayer and selier, and here is where all advocates of the gold standard fail to rise to the occasion, fail to meet the requirements of the case;
their treatment of this question is almost filmont.

We say that opening the mints to silver will add to the stock of primary of legal-tender money, and this will again be landed with credits which will make possible an increase to business twenty times as great as the increase in money. We sometrimes hear it naked, "How will you get that money into circulation? or what good will this increase in money do von if you have no property or any collateral?" That question is purely Amerlean, and shows that in some things at least we are yet new.

GOLD MEN UP THE STATE FOR THACHER.

Some Effects of the Gold Standard
We are a producing nation, and the policy of our government has tended to reduce the prices of our products. Twenty years ago, when a foreign bendhelder took one of $1,000 bonds and clipped off the interest coupons for a year, amounting, say, to $50, he could buy with them only from $60,000 bushels of wheat or a proportionate amount of other American products.
To-day, when that bondholder clips off the coupous for a year's interest, that same $50 will buy him 100 bushels of wheat or a proportionate amount of other American products.

The condition of Barno Commorone, who was stabbed by Salvator Despino on the sidewalk in front of his home, at No. 307 Monroe street, on Friday night, was so critical yesterday that his ante-morten statement was taken in Gouverneur Hospital by Coroner Hospit. It was as follows:

"While I was sitting in front of my home, Despino's wife ran up behind me and threw her arms about my feek. Her husband then threatened me. I threatened him back. He struck me in the face, and then stabbed me in the side. That is all I know about it."

The Despino woman admitted holding Commorone, but said she did so in order to prevent his injuring her husband. She fastist that her husband did not carry any knife, and that It was Commorone's weapon which inflicted the womal.

The pollendaye a hove crossed to Will-manspar lamediately after the stabbid. The Despino and Commorone families were formerly on terms out intimacy, but on Friday Mrs. Commorone accused Mrs. Despino of "making too free" with her husband. Mrs. Despino the making too free" with her husband what the other man's with had said, and he immediately after the stabbids.
